your pepe

survival guide

always keep them

near & dear

nitty & gritty

inward & outward

Your pepe is designed to hold younger babies facing inward and adapt to hold older babies facing outward. Remove head support 'a' and place child in facing outward.

Your pepe gives you back the use of your hands. They are now free to help you out with your day, while keeping your baby near and dear.

nitty & gritty

pepe and you

You and pepe are going to be getting close. So let's make sure you get nice and comfy with each other.

1. Unbuckle the hip belt and back adjuster 'a'.
2. Loosen the shoulder and side straps 'b'.
3. Put pepe on, with the shoulder straps on your shoulders. pepe is worn on your front, not your back.
4. Do up the hip belt behind you. The top of the belt should be resting on your hips. Tighten it by pulling the webbing straps until firm. Use the strap holders.
5. Do up the back adjuster 'c' behind you, by pulling the webbing straps until firm.
6. Do up the side straps. Tighten by pulling the webbing straps until they're firm but not so tight that they pull the hip belt up.

7. Check the overall feel of the fit. How are you two getting on? Adjust for added comfort.

IMPORTANT - ASK THE STORE IF YOU ARE UNSURE ABOUT ANY ASPECT OF THE ADJUSTMENT

pepe and your baby

IMPORTANT - Before loading your child for the first time familiarise yourself with all the buckles and adjustment straps.

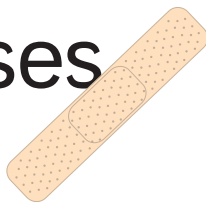

1. Put pepe on and check the fit, as above.
2. Loosen the side strap.
3. Do up the infant snaps.
Release ONLY if you're comfortable that your child is large enough (usually >8lb/4kg and 55cm)
4. Undo the top buckles 'a'.
5. Sit down with your baby.
6. Hold your child on pepe, against your chest, and do up all the buckles (2 top and 2 leg 'b') and the 2 snaps 'c' for a closer fit for smaller babies.
7. Make sure one of your child's legs are each side of pepe. Check out the photo. Do not put both legs out one side.
8. Put your child's arms under the top straps and over the leg straps. Adjust all straps for a close fit. Tighten top straps and leg straps to secure your child.

This brings the child closer to you
- firm but not tight.

9. Once you're confident that all straps are secure and fit well, you can let your child sit.
10. Turn your child's head to the side.
11. As your child grows you can slide adjust the head support, fold it over, or remove it. Keep it in the storage bag. Do not store wet.
12. Adjust all straps as your child grows. Only face your child out once s/he can support his/her head (usually when she/he can sit unsupported by her/himself).

cuts & bruises

the once over

Check pepe for cuts and bruises. If pepe is damaged in any way, or you are not sure how to use it, contact your retailer immediately.

caring for pepe

unlike children, pepe likes to stay clean.

pepe's a saint when it comes to bath time. Machine wash him separately in warm water, on a gentle cycle. Then just hang him out to drip dry. Iron on low if necessary.

Do not store him wet.

Remove dry dirt with a soft brush.

Do not wash with soap, solvents, bleach or detergents which may harm the fabric.

Store well ventilated, away from direct sunlight and moisture (which can harm and fade the fabric).

IMPROPER CARE WILL VOID ANY WARRANTIES.

DO NOT USE PEPE IF DETERIORATION IS DETECTED OR SUSPECTED.

a little relationship advice

1. You may want to limit the first few uses of pepe to 15 minutes, until you, pepe and your child are all feeling really comfy with the new arrangement.
2. When taking pepe off you may like to keep one side done up and leave the back adjuster buckled. It's up to you.
3. Minimise back stress by ensuring that the hip belt is around your hips, not your waist.
4. You may like to nurse in privacy by undoing one top strap, supporting your baby at all times with your hands. Of course, buckle up and tighten the straps when you're done.
5. Bend at the knees, not at the waist, to keep your baby secure in pepe's embrace.

WARNING: Don't use as a car safety seat.

WARNING: Don't use pepe when running, cooking, skiing, driving or riding on animals or equipment. These and other activities may be dangerous for a baby or child.
